

General Instructions

Use this form to report fuel taxes or fees you paid for fuel removed from the rack, bought, or imported into Utah. You must complete the entire return and keep all backup documentation.

You may apply for a tax refund if you paid the Utah fuel tax or environmental assurance fee on gallons not subject to taxes or fees. You must give supporting documentation to verify refund requests.

Schedules

Correct schedule type and fuel code combinations are required for all fuel reported or deducted on tax forms. You may be penalized if you do not file the correct forms and combinations. See tax.utah.gov/fuel for the forms, schedules and combinations you must file.

Amended Return

To amend a previously filed return, choose "Yes" in the Amended Return box for the period being amended. Enter corrected transactions and corrected amounts, not net total amounts.

Calculate the refund or balance due by subtracting the original payment from the corrected tax due. Failure to pay all additional tax and interest with the amended return will result in a late payment penalty.

Note: If you sell aviation fuel to airports or federally certificated air carriers, you must complete TC-109, disbursement schedule, column J airport code. This information is only used for tax distribution to airports.

Filing Instructions

Follow these steps to complete and submit your return:

1. Complete company contact info at the top of the Report tab.
2. Complete schedule(s) and Address tabs first.
3. After you have completed all tabs click the Edit/Calculate button to check for errors.
4. Correct any errors.
5. Save your return.
6. Go to Taxpayer Access Point (TAP).
7. Click the "Import your TC-109 template" link in the Returns panel on the TAP homepage.
8. Upload your file.

Important

- Fill in all columns on the "receipt" and "disbursement" schedules for each transaction before completing the return.
- Do not enter information in shaded fields.
- Leaving blank lines or columns will cause errors.
- Round to the nearest whole gallons and dollars.
- "Receipt" and "disbursement" schedules will auto-tally on the "Report" page.
