We, the multi-level marketing company noted above, make this agreement with the Utah State Tax Commission to establish a clear basis for us to collect and pay sales and use tax to the Tax Commission.

Through this agreement, we agree to collect and pay both sales tax and use tax on all transactions subject to tax under Utah law related to the multi-level marketing relationship with our independent distributors.

The agreement is as follows:

1. We will collect sales and use tax from our distributors at the time they purchase products from us for use within Utah or resale to Utah residents. These collections and any related actions will follow Utah law. We will file all required tax returns on time and pay all taxes to the Tax Commission by the due date.
2. We will calculate sales tax based on a product's suggested retail sales price, according to our price list. We will calculate use tax based on the price our distributors pay for any product they buy from us for personal use, educational materials, free samples, or other promotional aids. We understand the tax rate is the sales and use tax rate in the location where the product is shipped.
3. This Agreement will be interpreted according to Utah state law.

We understand the Tax Commission will not try to collect any sales or use tax from our independent distributors within Utah only so long as those distributors are paying full tax due to the company, as explained in this agreement. Our distributors may pass sales tax through to their customers but may not collect an amount greater than the amount of tax paid to the company.

We further understand that if we violate any part of this agreement, or if the Tax Commission finds we have provided false information, this agreement is null and void.

By signing below, we confirm we have read this agreement and agree to all its terms.
